

A Survivors Right to Report

A person who believes they have been subjected to, witnessed, or has knowledge of gender-based or sexual misconduct may file a complaint alleging violation(s) of the Prohibiting Sex-Based Misconduct Policy and/or the Student Code of Conduct through the Vice President of Student Services. A person who believes they have been subjected to, witnessed, or has knowledge of an alleged violation of the comprehensive policy by such misconduct on the part of a College employee (faculty or other staff) may file a complaint through Human Resources.

The complainant has the right to report or not report a violation of the policy. It is recommended that a Confidential Advisor be contacted prior to making a report to inform the survivor of choices for reporting options, possible outcomes, notifying law enforcement and a review of the College Prohibiting Sex-Based Policy.

Know the Red Flags of Abuse

- Embarrassing or putting you down
- Looking at you or acting in ways that scare you
- Controlling who you see, where you go, or what you do
- Keeping you or discouraging you from seeing your friends or families
- Taking your money or refusing to give you money for expenses
- Preventing you from making your own decisions
- Telling you that you are a bad parent or threatening to harm or take away your children
- Preventing you from working or attending school
- Blaming you for the abuse, or acting like it's not really happening
- Destroying your property or threatening to hurt or kill your pets
- Intimidating you with guns, knives or other weapons
- Shoving, slapping, choking or hitting you
- Attempting to stop you from pressing charges
- Threatening to commit suicide because of something you've done
- Threatening to hurt or kill you
- Pressuring you to have sex when you don't want to or do things sexually you're not comfortable with
- Pressuring you to use drugs or alcohol
- Preventing you from using birth control or pressuring you to become pregnant when you're not ready

Be An Active Bystander

If you come across someone who looks like they are in trouble, check in with them and make sure they are OK. If you see someone doing something suspicious, say something.

Three common ways to intervene:

- Direct approach - If you feel comfortable, make your presence known. "Hey, I'm concerned for your safety, do you need help?" or "Hey are you okay?" or "You know what? It's time for us to go."
- Distracting approach - Make something up to either get the person to safety such as, "Your sister is on the phone for you." Or to get the aggressor to leave the situation, try, "Hey, buddy your car is being towed," or "I dropped my phone, can you help me move this couch?"
- Delegation approach - Locate the person's friends or the police to have them intervene. Ask for others to take certain actions. For example, ask them not to leave the person out of their sight.
