

KISHWAUKEE
COLLEGE

DR. ROSY CORDERO

DIRECTOR OF STUDENT ENGAGEMENT

Dr. Rosy Cordero is a recognized leader in community psychology and a passionate advocate for fostering inclusive environments. As the Director of Student Engagement at Kishwaukee College and an adjunct professor at Sauk Valley Community College, Dr. Cordero brings over a decade of experience in higher education.

She holds a PhD in Community Psychology from National Louis University and a professional certification from eCornell, focusing on cultivating inclusive practices. In addition, she is a certified trainer in "Crucial Conversations," empowering individuals with the skills to navigate complex and sensitive discussions.

Dr. Cordero's work spans education, community outreach, and leadership development, where she actively engages in volunteerism and public speaking to uplift underrepresented groups. Her commitment to social justice and servant leadership has earned her numerous accolades.